

Follow the Leader
Politics Isn't Just Child's Play

STILL PHOTO INFORMATION AND CREDITS

1. Campaign Posters: Full Resolution images of Graphics that appear in the film. These posters are meant to be reminiscent of old political campaign posters. They suggest the boys' aspirations and a primary character trait for each boy – which may define how they promote themselves when running for office later as adults. (Credit for all four images: Courtesy of Changeworx)

- A. Ben – “A Return to Greatness”
- B. D.J. – “Renewing Faith in America”
- C. Nick – “Idealism for the USA”
- D. Boys Corkboard – An image combining the three posters on corkboard, as if it were on a school wall

2. Ben

- A. Ben Baseball Card – An image of Ben as a child used in the film, from before the time when politics took over his life. (Courtesy of Trump Family)
- B. Ben Trophy – An image of Ben shown in the film, from one of his first high school debating competitions. (Courtesy of Trump Family)
- C. Ben with Mom – Ben and his mother attend a campaign event for local Virginia politicians. (Photo Credit: Changeworx/Jonathan Goodman Levitt)
- D. Ben Republican Elephant – At a campaign event, Ben pretends to “fight” with a man dressed as an Elephant, the Republican Party symbol. (Photo credit: Changeworx/Jonathan Goodman Levitt)
- E. Ben and his fiancé Anna, present day. (Courtesy of Trump Family)

3. D.J.

- A. D.J. Little Kid – D.J. in one of his school portraits seen in the film. (Courtesy of Beauregard Family)
- B. D.J. Victory Rally – D.J. attends a victory celebration for U.S. Representative Niki Tsongas (MA-5), whose first Congressional Campaign he worked on as a paid staff member. (Photo Credit: Changeworx/Jonathan Goodman Levitt)
- C. D.J. Flags – D.J. poses in his bedroom with American flags. (Photo Credit: Changeworx/Jonathan Goodman Levitt)
- D. D.J. Thumbs Up – D.J. gives the “thumbs up” sign, with a caricature drawing as President of the United States featured in the film in the background. (Photo Credit: Changeworx/Jonathan Goodman Levitt)

4. Nick

- A. Nick Little Kid – Nick as a young boy in a photograph used in the film.

(Courtesy of Troiano Family)

- B. Nick with Reagan – Nick at the White House in Washington, D.C., with a painting of his hero, former President Ronald Reagan. (Courtesy of Troiano Family)
- C. Nick Dorm Room – Nick in his dorm room during his first year at college, with clippings containing his own photographs as published in the college newspaper (upper right). (Photo Credit: Changeworx/Jonathan Goodman Levitt)
- D. Nick Obama Kennedy – A photo taken by Nick, while working as a reporter covering former Senator Ted Kennedy’s endorsement of then candidate Barack Obama, January, 2008. (Photo credit: Nick Troiano)
- E. Nick Votes – Nick casting his first ballot after turning 18. (Photo credit: Graham Vyse)
- F. Nick Today – Nick with his mentor (and Unity08 Founder, as seen in the film) Doug Bailey and friend Graham Vyse, present day. (Courtesy of Nick Troiano)
- G. DeLorean Photos of Nick and his father (these three photos will be retouched later this year, and resent later if you choose to use them) – Nick and his father discussion Nick’s Presidential ambitions, while sitting in their classic DeLorean car, in a scene from Follow the Leader. (Photo credit: Jean Christophe)

5. Director Images

- A. Headshot – Filmmaker Jonathan Goodman Levitt, taken at the Cinema Eye Awards in New York, January, 2012 (Photo credit: Simon Luethi)
- B. Jonathan Filming – Taken during filming Follow the Leader in Milford, PA. (Photo credit: Jean Christophe)

6. Other

- A. “Gave Peace a Chance” – A still used in the film that expresses the sentiment felt by some among the Millennial Generation, that “[Americans] gave peace a chance, [but] we got 9/11.” (Photo credit: Nick Troiano)
- B. “Dear World” – Man with sign that says “Dear World, We're Back, Love USA”. Taken at President Barack Obama's Inauguration in January, 2009, as seen in Follow the Leader. (Photo credit: Nick Troiano)